MISSION IN THE SUN, TUCSON, ARIZONA

This little church in the Santa Catalina Mountains north of Tucson is Arizona artist DeGrazia's expression of beauty, simplicity and faith. It is lighted by luminarias on the eve of the birthday of Our Lady of Guadalupe, patron saint of the Yaqui Indians, in whose honor the mission was built. The Indians celebrate the day at all their churches with native dances and a day long fiesta.

Greetings from Tucson. Climate delightful-sun warm. Hate to think of all you people in the cold Northeast. Am going to hear Hans Richter Haaser playing with Tucson Symphony. Adios - Rosa S
